Robbers Take Money, Beer, Cigarettes and Gum; Police Investigating

Thieves visited the Legion club on main street sometime between Sunday morning and evening and got away with quite a haul. Entrance is thought to have been made through a coal chute leading into the basement.

Approximately $60 in cash was taken as well as a barrel of beer, about $30 in cigarettes and gum and a number of keys.

The beer had been rolled out of the premises and the tracks of the heavy barrel could be traced to the bridge a few yards east of the club. The gun was a donation from some ladies who wished it to be included in prisoners-of-war parcels. The keys stolen belonged to the locks on the cigarette fund soldier, sailor and CWAC woman which have been seen at the bank each pay Saturday. It will be necessary to place new locks on the Cigarette Fund models.

Discovery of the theft was made by Steward Alex. Easton on Sunday evening when he went into the building to make a casual inspection. Police were immediately called to the club and on Monday evening a special meeting of the executive was called to discuss the theft.

Only one keg of beer remains to last out the month now that one has been stolen, thereby further reducing the revenue of the club.

PRISONER-OF-WAR PARCEL FORMS AVAILABLE HERE

Since it has become known that some local men are now prisoners of war, both in Germany and in Japan, it is probable that their friends may decide to send them parcels.

The local branch of the Canadian Red Cross points out how essential it is to abide by the rules governing prisoners-of-war parcels. Forms governing the packing and contents of these parcels can be obtained by secretary J. A. Park.

Few Recruits For CWAC In This District

Young Women Do Not Appear to be Interested in Opportunity Offered Them to Further Their Education and Make Themselves Ready for Post War Period.

A CWAC recruiting party under the direction of Sgt. Vera Shirley came to town last Friday to seek enlistments of young women over 18 into the C.W.A.C. Despite the fact that Sgt. Shirley and her assistants worked like Trojans trying to secure enlistments their efforts proved unsuccessful. One young woman signed up on her own accord about 7:30 p.m.

In order to give further publicity to their campaign locally the recruiting officers held a public meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall and asked a number of persons to attend. Outside of the Press only two turned up. Despite this Sgt. Shirley went ahead with the meeting and gave a detailed outline of how a recruit enters the CWAC.

She told of how a recruit is interviewed, gets her medical, gives data regarding herself, dependents, etc., gets her personnel test, gets her uniform, and so on. The personnel test she laid great stress on. Little is known publicly about this test and girls fearing that they would be delegated to general duties would have nothing to fear if they understood the personnel test. They are asked a series of simple questions. Following the question period the results are tabulated. The series of questions are a guiding rod to the army personnel who ask them and after studying the results the recruit is advised to specialize in a certain branch of the army which her personnel test has shown she has the greatest aptitude for.

Schools are provided for girls desiring to train as stenographers or clerks. The basic training centre is at Vermilion where girls from the prairie provinces and B.C. are in attendance.

The rate of pay for the recruit is $31.50 exclusive of clothing, medical and dental service. In addition a recruit is allowed dependent's allowance should she have a parent entirely dependent on her.

Sgt. Shirley also stressed the point that it is not all work and no play and that there are social evenings which the girls thoroughly enjoy.

It was a disappointment to the recruiting party to meet with so little success in the Pass towns. "If the young women would only realize that their services are so urgently needed to replace men for the active front, there is no doubt they would come forward," remarked Sgt. Shirley. A wonderful opportunity is offered them and still they refused to accept it. "Young girls with very little schooling are today being given the opportunity to educate themselves to take their places in the post war world," she added.

Following the meeting, Sgt. Shirley went direct to the Palace theatre where, through the kindness of Wm. Cole, she was allowed to speak a few minutes to the audience on the CWAC. As a result seven young women came up to the hall after the show and received further details on the CWAC.

May Close Soft Drink Plant For A Month

Mr. Mark Sartoris informed The Journal on Saturday afternoon that he may be forced to close his soft drink bottling plant during September due to lack of sugar.

His product is enjoying wide popularity in the Pass and as a result his sugar quota has fast disappeared. The plant will reopen Oct. 1 should his application for more sugar be not granted.

National Film Board Shooting Local Coal Mining Scenes

Scenes Have Been Filmed in Nova Scotia, Drumheller, Vancouver Island and The Pass; Story Runs Through Film

During the past two weeks a great deal of interest has been aroused throughout the Pass at the visit of a group of young people representing the National Film Board and who have been taking scenes of the Pass coal mines.

The director is Robert "Bob" Edmunds and the director of photography is Joe Braun. The actress is Miss Irene Wright and the actor, Tom Greensall, both of New Westminster. There are seven persons in the group.

The picture will be classed as another in the Industrial Morale films. Scenes have been taken in the Nova Scotia coal fields, Drumheller, Vancouver Island and the Crows Nest Pass, all major coal fields in the Dominion. Purpose of the picture is to bring home to Canadians the importance coal plays in Canada's war effort. A story also runs through the film but is only second to the importance of the mining industry depicted in the film. It is estimated the film will have a running time of twenty minutes at each screening, and will be released to the public about October or November. At present time it is not known if it will be released in a manner to be used by such machines as installed at The Palace theatre or by machines which can be used in the various Community halls with a screen attached to a wall. Cost of the equipment being used here is estimated at $30,000.

In Coleman scenes have been taken at the International mine tipple, coke ovens, the passenger train pulling into the station with a soldier coming back from the army to work in the mines, and some street scenes.

A number of citizens have been used to lend "atmosphere" to the picture and no doubt they will await with interest the arrival of the film for local showing.

Find Cause Of Radio Interference

Two Electricians and Radio Technician Locate Trouble in Home in Park Terrace.

The never ending stream of complaints regarding radio interference on Sixth street received by electricians Stuart Murdoch and Aldo Montalbetti and M. Nilsson, radio technician, caused these three men to put aside personal pleasure on Wednesday evening of last week to hunt down the trouble.

They visited every home on Sixth street, testing the service boxes and other electrical gadgets and seeking the help of the householders in their search. The interference at this time was really bad.

They finally worked their way to a house on Park Terrace and upon pulling the switch in the service box eliminated the noise throughout the section of the district. Signals from a number of the householders signified that the noise had stopped and the radios were now playing without the interference.

The service box was inspected and it was found to contain a corroded and broken connection in an obsolete fuse box. The men report that in their search they found at least 75% of the service boxes are not grounded or are poorly grounded in the district they covered, and this ratio may be good for the rest of the town. The proprietor of the house causing all the trouble was innocent of all knowledge of the broken connection, as it still allowed the current to pass through without causing any visible disturbance to the lights.

It has been stated to The Journal that householders are responsible for their service boxes and it will be entirely up to them whether or not they get the boxes properly grounded.

The Council for many years has received complaints on radio interference and it is quite possible that they will give this question some discussion at their meeting next week now that they know what the cause is. If they do and decide to make it compulsory to have all service boxes properly grounded it will be recorded in next week's issue.

The three men responsible for tracing the cause of the disturbance are no doubt receiving the thanks of Sixth street citizens for giving them an indefinite period of radio reception free from continual disturbance.

Many Volunteer to Help With New Ration Book

Mrs. Antrobus Greatly Delighted With Response of Married Women and Young Girls to Help in Distribution.

As a result of an appeal made last week by Mayor and Mrs. Antrobus for volunteers to help distribute the new ration books, many married women and young girls came forward and offered their services.

They were quick to learn the few simple rules necessary for distributing the new books and everything has been going smoothly during the past three days.

On Tuesday, only 650 persons received their books. It is said that many in East Coleman were unaware that the books were being distributed. However, during the past two days citizens have been coming in greater numbers.

Those giving their services include Mrs. Dora Montalbetti, Mrs. Wm. Beck, Mrs. H. Willetts, Jessie Korchuska, Anne Melusky, Georgina Groszgo, Angelina Ferrara, Norma Leisemer, Dorothy Morris, Isabel Ewing and L. Abousafy.

The thanks of Mayor and Mrs. Antrobus and that of the town council is extended to these ladies for their much appreciated services.

Equipment Of Air Cadets on Display In Pattinson's Hdw.

Recruits Between 14 and 17 Years Wanted for Coleman Corps; Display to be Seen in Pattinson's Hardware Window.

The local Air Cadet corps will soon be starting its Fall activities. In an effort to stimulate recruiting among local youths between the ages of 14 and 17 years, a display of the cadet uniforms and equipment is to be seen in a window at the Pattinson Hardware store.

A splendid opportunity is afforded all youths entering the Cadet movement, as they are given instruction in wireless, airplane construction, airplane detection, and a host of other studies which they may use to advantage in making their place in the post-war world. Recruits may interview either Harold Houghton or Percy Dickenson for further particulars on joining the local air cadet corps.

Canadian Aviation

THE RAPID DEVELOPMENT in aviation since the beginning of the war has awakened the interest of people everywhere in the post-war possibilities for the use of the airplane. As the plans for the air routes of the future are discussed it becomes increasingly apparent that Canadians have yet another natural asset in the skies above us. Early in the war it was found that the shortest air route between this continent and Britain was via Canada, and as a result the R.A.F. Ferry Command, now known as the R.A.F. Transport Command, established headquarters in the East. From an unknown point large numbers of airplanes, manufactured in Canada and the United States, are flown to Britain with great success. A beginning has also been made in transporting airborne freight over this route and there is little doubt but that passenger and freight traffic will continue to use this skyway after the war.

Canada Is On Direct Routes

The unique position of Winnipeg and Edmonton in the air routes of the future has been pointed out many times. Air navigators have shown that these cities lie on the most direct lines between this continent and Russia, China, and India, the routes crossing the Arctic circle. The importance of all this now, and in the future is clearly apparent to all Canadians, and there has already been considerable discussion here as to the utilization of these airways after the war. The great development which has already taken place in connection with the building of the Alaskan Highway, and the opening of large air fields at Edmonton and beyond, is paving the way for the use of that route for peacetime purposes in the years to come. Other great air fields, developed in the Dominion for other uses at this time, will no doubt prove of value in civil aviation after the war, as will the training received by thousands of Canadian young men in the Air Force.

Light Planes Are Designed

As a result of recent scientific discoveries, in the realm of fuels, plastics and light metals, aircraft engineers are now designing "planes capable of flying from this continent to Europe and back non-stop, and carrying loads of twenty tons. These planes will be four times the size of the famous "clippers" which pioneered in the opening up of trans-oceanic commercial air service. It is likely that after the war there will also be a demand for small, highly efficient, low-cost passenger "planes, and it is possible that present factories now used for producing aircraft for use in the war, may be turned to making light airplanes for civilian uses. Tens of thousands of young Canadians have been trained for flying and our country is dotted with excellent air fields. There is also much possibility for use of the airplane in developing the great resources of the Canadian Northland, and it is likely that many Canadian airmen who are now fighting in distant theatres of war, will take part in the future expansion of our North country. In all these ways it is clear that the airplane is going to play an important part in post-war events in Canada.

HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA

FISH
Meal planning is a necessity to-day. To obtain the required amount of efficient protein you should have your portion of rationed meat 4 or 5 times a week and substitute a food containing efficient protein for the other 2 or 3 days. Fish is one of the foods you can use interchangeably with meat as a source of protein without affecting materially the nutritive value of your diet. Salt water fish is valuable in your diet for the iodine content. Salmon, halibut, cod, are rich in vitamins A, D and G.

The locality and season influence the price of fish, so if you are not too far from where the fish are caught, you should buy fish every week when it is in season. In fresh fish the eyes should be full and bright, the gills red, the flesh firm and elastic and there should be no disagreeable odour. Fish may be preserved by one of several methods or a combination of two or more, e.g., freezing, salting, pickling, smoking and canning.

You probably have noticed that fish is never tough, this is due to the fact that there is no connective tissue, as there is in meat. As a result you only cook fish to develop a flavour and change the texture. These facts should always be kept in mind when cooking fish, as prolonged cooking dries out the fish and spoils the flavour—10 minutes per pound is sufficient.

You should cook fish several different ways to add a variety to your menus. Fillets and small fish may be broiled or pan-broiled in oil or fat and basted during the cooking to prevent the fish drying out. Fish could be coated with bread crumbs and egg or corn meal and fried in fat at a high temperature to prevent the fat soaking into the fish. Larger size fish may be stuffed and baked in a moderate oven, basting with melted fat, or salt pork or lean bacon placed on top of the fish will add richness and flavour. You could wrap fish to be boiled in cheese cloth to facilitate handling.

Lack of colour, flavour and richness in fish can easily be supplied by garnishes and sauces, e.g., lemon, cucumbers, parsley, tartar, tomato or egg sauce.

For tempting recipes write to the Western Division Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, Ontario.

WOMEN'S LAND ARMY

At the end of March 1943, the Women's Land Army of Great Britain numbered more than 58,000 women between 17 and 40. They were employed on farms, in market gardens and in forests. A number of prisoners of war are now employed on British farms.

Canadian Corn Needed

Situation Is One Of Utmost Urgency To Starch Industry

In an interview with Mr. G. F. Benson Jr., President of the Canada Starch Company Limited, discussing a recent dispatch from Ottawa which said that in view of the fact that deliveries of corn had not been maintained by the Canadian farmers, supply stocks were dwindling rapidly, he stated that the situation with regard to corn supply is one of the utmost urgency to the starch industry.

The industry produces many essential foods and also special starches and adhesives used in the manufacture of war material. The Canadian Government is now permitting the importation of corn from the United States, and realizing the imperative need for this grain in vital war industries is providing subsidies for this purpose.

Mr. Benson said that the Starch Industry for some years has been encouraging Canadian farmers to grow more hybrid corn. He indicated the Canadian price ceiling was extremely fair and even high in comparison with other grains. He urged the Canadian farmer to make deliveries regularly of reasonable quantities of corn in order that they may retain the Canadian market.

Sunflower Harvest

Expected That Crop Will Be Quite Heavy This Year

Nearly 20,000,000 pounds of sunflower and rape seed—rich sources of vital vegetable oils—may be harvested in Canada this year, it was indicated.

Two years ago these crops were practically unknown. Their development results from the shortage of vegetable oils in North America following the loss of normal sources of supply due to war in the Pacific area.

The Dominion bureau of statistics said that about 1,000,000 pounds of sunflower seed in western Canada, while some 366 in the prairie provinces, Ontario and Quebec planted rape seed.

Life Rafts

Canadian Lifesaving Equipment Has Attracted Attention Abroad

Lt.-Cmdr. C. P. Harding of the Royal Canadian Navy told a service club in Toronto that Canadian development of raft lifesaving equipment has been so successful the British admiralty and authorities of the United States, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have sought Canadian specifications.

"You can sink a lifeboat but not a raft," he said. "Sailors now prefer rafts to lifeboats and on many vessels wood and steel lifeboats are being abandoned in favor of rafts developed by Canadians."

No Reduced Fares

Pleasure Travel Will Have To Be Kept Within Present Limits

The order-in-council which suspended reduced railway fares for week-end and holiday travel has been extended to Feb. 15, 1944, it was announced by T. C. Lockwood, Controller of Transport. The original order covered a trial period from last April 15 to Aug. 15.

Mr. Lockwood said that "civilian travel is still extremely heavy and it is impossible to offer any special inducements in the way of reduced fares, which would result in any increase in the present movement, as it is most essential and important that the armed services, both on duty and leave, be given preference and train space provided for them."

The controller also said that pleasure travel would have to be kept within present limits so that the movement of essential war materials would not be interfered with.

THE RECAPTURE OF KISKA HAS CHANGED THE WHOLE PICTURE IN NORTHERN PACIFIC DEFENCE

ADAK, Aleutian Islands.—"Our recapture of Kiska with no opposition means that we have completed our northern road to Japan," Vice-Admiral Thomas G. Kinkaid, United States commander of the North Pacific, said.

He added: "Our completed chain of air and naval bases also will protect our surface vessels and our shipping units two-thirds of the way to Tokyo."

Admiral Kinkaid said it was believed Japanese surface craft sank some of the ships evacuating Japanese troops from Kiska.

"We believe that we sank some of their ships during a heavy fog, and at night, but this cannot be confirmed," he said.

Why did the Japanese leave Kiska? The admiral credited the bloodless victory to Jap-killing bombing tolls.

"It was expensive to fire so many rounds of ammunition and to drop such a large number of bombs and to keep up our constant patrols but we saved thousands of American and Canadian lives," he declared.

U.S. army estimate of potential casualties in taking Kiska by force ran to 7,000 wounded and killed.

Admiral Kinkaid said the bloodless victory of Kiska changed the whole Pacific picture.

"The northern route—the shortest route to Japan—now is cleared and from Attu we are only 630 miles from Paramushiro, Japan's northernmost naval, air and army base," he said.

Admiral Kinkaid said the Japanese infestation of the Rat and near islands bases last June served the United States well.

"It made us aware of our danger and as a result we rushed to completion a chain of sea and air bases to defend our western approaches," he continued. "Now, when the time comes we will be ready to use them for a gigantic offensive which will break Japan's back."

The Kiska campaign, the admiral added, was not without drawing Japanese blood.

"A goodly number of the estimated 8,500 Kiska Japs were killed—how many is difficult to estimate—by the relentless pounding of the 11th Air Force under the command of Maj.-Gen. William O. Butler and by our heavy surface bombardments."

"More than 5,500,000 pounds of bombs were dropped on Kiska since last August. Two of the navy's

PRISON CAMPS

Red Cross Would Set Up Neutral Camps For Prisoners

LONDON.—Through the Red Cross, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey have been asked to set up camps for all long-term prisoners of war.

Discussions already in process have raised hopes here that they may lead to repatriation of badly wounded Britons and the transfer to neutral countries of many others, not eligible for return to their own country, but suffering the effects of long captivity.

Britain would exchange German long-term prisoners for interment in neutral camps if Germany agreed to do likewise.

The question was raised in parliament by Sir Jocelyn Lucas, who drew from Foreign Minister Eden the statement that the matter is "being considered." He intends to renew his question after the present summer recess.

The plan might affect many Canadians taken prisoner a year ago in the assault on Dieppe.

Four Canadians Receive Medals For Exceptional Bravery

LONDON.—Awards of one Distinguished Flying Cross and three Distinguished Flying Medals to Canadians were announced by the air ministry:

D.F.C.—Flying Officer Earl Frank Reid, Westmount, Que.

D.F.M.—Sgt. Ray Charles Elliott, Ottawa; Wilfred Harold Roach, Rosthern, Sask.; James Downey Watts, Vancouver.

It was announced the awards were generally for exceptional capabilities and courage and gallantry shown in raids over Germany.

FEAR JAP INVASION

EDMONTON.—C. P. Smith, managing director of two western Australian newspapers, said in an interview that Australians are "fearfully uneasy" over prospects of a Japanese invasion of their continent although many now believe possibility of a full-scale invasion is past and expect only small attacks or invasions.

bombardments were the heaviest in Pacific naval warfare.

"We have sunk many of their ships and submarines in this Aleutian theatre."

Military Attache

Brigadier Orville M. M. Kay, Deputy Adjutant General (B) since 1941, who has been appointed Canadian Military Attache to China. Brigadier Kay is a former Winnipeg barrister and served in the First Great War with the Royal Flying Corps. He was officer commanding the Winnipeg Grenadiers at the outbreak of war.

A RECORD HIT

LONDON.—A record was established when a south coast anti-aircraft gun knocked a Messerschmitt 109 out of the sky with a direct hit at 36,000 feet. An anti-aircraft officer said "it was the first time that a shell has met and blasted to pieces a German raider at such an extreme range for the type of heavy guns used."

EUROPEAN FRONT

Nazis Watching With Concern Mighty Aerial Offensive

STOCKHOLM.—Germans view the heavy assaults on French air fields by great fleets of Allied aircraft as a prelude to the invasion of France, Berlin despatches reported.

While the R.A.F. continued its mighty aerial offensive against Germany, the Nazis were reported watching with mounting concern not only the raids on air fields but the tightening circle of heavy attacks in daylight against the heart of Germany herself.

The Berlin correspondent of Svenska Dagbladet said that the Germans knew the blows against air fields in the vicinity of Marseille and on the north coast of France "must be connected with higher military strategy dealing with the start of another European front."

Despatches from the German capital also reported that the announcement that Nazi troops had ceased fighting and had been withdrawn from Sicily came as a shock to many Germans.

The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm papers Dagens Nyheter said most Germans had expected Nazi resistance would continue for some time. Reports to the home front had given no indication an evacuation was imminent, he declared.

Foreign correspondents in Berlin were told that the Germans had evacuated 35,000 Nazi soldiers and 4,500 wounded.

The Germans also claimed to have salvaged 17,000 tons of ammunition, 9,600 cars, 100 field guns and 47 tanks.

NEW MEDICOS

180 Successful Candidates In Medical Council's Exams

OTTAWA.—Dr. J. Fenton Argue, registrar of the Medical Council of Canada, announced the names of 180 successful candidates in the Medical Council's examinations held recently.

Dr. Argue said 95 per cent.—all those medically fit—are entering the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. Many are in the R.C.A.M.C. already, having joined before graduating and received government assistance.

The list of new doctors includes: John A. McFadden, Dauphin, Man.

ALARM CLOCKS ARRIVE

LONDON.—Sixty thousand alarm clocks—an article long unobtainable in Britain—have arrived here from the United States. It was disclosed. The board of trade, however, still is undecided how to distribute them among stores so they can get into the hands of war workers.

CANADIAN NURSES

NEW YORK.—Thirty-three Canadian nurses arrived in New York en route home after 15 months' service in South Africa. Under the leadership of Capt. Ruth MacLellan, the nurses are returning to their homes in the Maritimes, Ontario and the western provinces.

MADRID.—The underground movements of France—the fuse to what may be a powerful bomb under the German forces of occupation—spurred angrily with increasing though sporadic acts of violence.

The Vichy correspondent of EFE, Spanish foreign news agency, said French officials "live in perpetual dread inspired by terrorist elements whose acts sometimes appear in the form of destruction of large quantities of wheat and oats."

The correspondent did not say whose wheat and oats were burned, but other sources left no doubt these were German stores which had been going up in fire started by the very peasants from whose fields the grains were taken for German use.

Continued Allied broadcasts to the French people that "the day" of invasion was close at hand, stepped up French nervousness to a new high.

The Vichy correspondent reported officials of the Vichy foreign ministry and other officials, "even a former chief of Petain's cabinet," were arrested at Laval's order in Paris. "Those arrested were charged with dangerous contacts with elements of powers considered as enemies of France," said the correspondent.

The Germans, said this correspondent, at the same time arrested a number of political, financial and banking figures.

The official motive of these arrests, said the correspondent was for black market operations.

"French masses" the correspondent continued, "dream of the Fourth Republic and of (Edouard) Herriot now interned in Vittel."

Even the cartoonists in the Paris press have begun taking back-handed slaps at German and Laval propaganda concerning the Allied air raids.

The correspondent reported on the caricature of two Frenchmen which appeared in a French paper.

"Planes just destroyed another city," says one Frenchman to another.

"Oh, yes, now don't tell me," says the second, "it's a crusade to clean up tenebrous districts."

Most people on the Iberian peninsula seemed convinced either France or Italy would be the next battlefield, maybe both.

The French seemed prepared for battle on their home territory.

STOCKHOLM.—Danish political leaders met in Copenhagen to consider whether the government would back an open rebellion of the people against the Nazi occupation and war services, or yield part of its justice administration to the Germans.

The government of Premier Eric Scavenius appeared to seek a showdown between the rising public clamor for a new government with a more militant attitude toward Germans and the Berlin demands for a more submissive Denmark.

Attacks on Nazi soldiers and sabotage against factories producing German war materials have been reported rampant for a week.

EXPERIENCED FARM WORKERS FROM ONTARIO POINTS WILL ASSIST WITH WESTERN HARVEST

OTTAWA.—Selective Service Director Arthur MacNamara announced that the Dominion government will transfer a number of selected farmers and experienced farm workers from Ontario points to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta for the western harvest.

Mr. MacNamara said in a statement that the movement of the men will be on a voluntary basis, and that men will not be taken from Ontario until the agricultural industry of that province can spare their services.

The announcement said that while the number of men to be moved has not been definitely fixed, it is probable that "some thousands" will be involved.

Except for a nominal sum for the return journey, men will be moved without cost to themselves so far as rail transportation is concerned, and while in the west they will be paid the current rates for farm work. As the need for men in the west is immediate, the men will leave Ontario just as soon as harvesting operations in that province decline.

The announcement said officials of the Ontario agricultural department are co-operating with the federal department of labor to assist in finding farm workers who may be spared, and to ensure that Ontario farmers will not be encouraged to move while they are still needed for the harvest in their own province.

Mr. MacNamara said word was being sent to individual farmers asking those who are able to go west to apply to their nearest employment and selective service office. The transfers will be made on much the same basis as last year, when more than 5,000 farmers and university students were moved west for the harvest season.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Coleman Is In The Movies

Local interest has centred this week on the small group of young people, representing the National Film Board, which have visited our town for the purpose of taking mining scenes. These scenes, along with others taken at Nova Scotia, Drumheller, Vancouver Island and The Pass, will be made into a movie and shown throughout the Dominion. According to our information the picture will help depict the coal mining industry throughout the Dominion and the vital role coal has in Canada's war effort. A story runs through the picture, but it is supposed to be of only secondary importance to the mining scenes.

Since we noticed a large piece of brown paper bearing the name "Coaltown Herald" in bold markings in a vacant main street building, we judge that local scenes will be credited to "Coaltown." The thought came to our mind while watching them film a scene at the local depot: since these people are filming coal mining scenes and mining towns, why can't they film them as they really are and not add so much artificial coloring. In this particular scene at the depot they had two smoke bombs generating sufficient smoke as to almost suffocate a person. Are the citizens of Coleman to be led to believe that we residents of a coal mining town are subject to "eating" smoke such as depicted in this particular scene? Common sense would tell one that it was humanly impossible to dwell under such conditions.

Common Sense Should Govern Pension Scheme

Is Canada really appreciative of the work done by her citizens during their span of working life? We are definitely of the opinion that she is not. Take the case of the old-age pension. Up to the present time one has to reach his three-score-and-ten, and live in the country at least twenty years by the way, before he is eligible to secure the pension. Before doing so, however, he has to sign over his home to the government—as if $20 a month was such a princely sum. When one has led an upright life, paid his taxes to his country and been a good citizen, why shouldn't the country reward him with a worth-while pension and at an age much lower than the present required age? Let him keep his home and if he has been thrifty throughout life, let that be no deferment from securing a pension which is rightfully his. Others who may have "thrown" their money away on booze and other vices during their working life clamor and receive the pension, why should not all receive a bonus on their life's work after reaching the age of retirement?

Let us hope that following the war, machinery will be set up throughout the Dominion whereby it will be compulsory for all to contribute to a pension scheme during their active years and which will be paid as a matter of right, not as charity, to all when they have reached the retirement age.

MORE WOMEN NEEDED FOR ARMED SERVICES

The recruiting of women for the armed forces largely resolves into the breaking down of the tradition that women's place is exclusively in the home, and certainly not in military uniform. Resistance to recruiting of young women is reflected in the baseless gossip in circulation about the way girls in the three services "carry on." There may be a small percentage who do not realize the obligations of the oath they have taken, but their numbers are very few.

The need for women recruits is still urgent, and it is of interest that the National Council of Women at their recent annual meeting voiced admiration on the conduct of women in the armed forces, and promised to support in every way further recruiting. The national president, Mrs. Edgar Hardy, of Ottawa, said: "The members of the National Council of Women of Canada are surely prepared to back the women of the armed forces in every possible way. Many of them are our daughters who have given up good positions and substantial pay cheques because loyalty to their country means more to them than easy living."

Parents are universally hesitant to approve the departure from home of a daughter and perhaps more than ever in wartime. Mrs. Hardy, who has a daughter in the services, has issued the following assurance to Canadian mothers:

"I am in a position to assure Canadian mothers that their daughters joining the forces will receive a supervision, physical, mental and moral, equal in every way to that which they had in civilian life. The training and discipline there obtained gives these young women splendid preparation, not only for war, but for the years of peace. Should we hear rumors circulating about these splendid young women, it is our bounden duty to track down these reports. Propaganda detrimental to the recruiting of women is nothing less than the enemy working against Canada's war effort."—Calgary Herald.

Selective Service Regulations Amended

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor, announces that a recent Order-in-Council now authorizes the inclusion of all men who have reached their sixteenth birthday and who have not yet reached their forty-first birthday under existing and future compulsory employment transfer orders.

The Order-in-Council amends Section 210 of National Selective Service Civilian Regulations to read as follows:

"210 (1) The minister may, by order, forbid any employer or group or class of employers to retain in employment after a specified date any male person (or group or class of male persons) who has attained or who later attains his sixteenth birthday and who has not attained his forty-first birthday, unless such person has presented to the employer a permit in prescribed form issued by a Selective Service officer; or may require any employer, or group or class of employers to terminate, at such time and in such manner as he may specify, the employment of any such person or group or class of such persons."

Previously the authority of the minister to issue compulsory employment transfer orders was restricted to two classes of men, those designated for the military call-up, and those young men 16, 17 and 18 years of age. Future orders will be extended to include all men from 16 to 40, inclusive, whether married or single and whether liable to the military call-up or not.

The minister states that the sixth compulsory employment transfer order will be issued shortly, and that it will bring under the first five compulsory orders previously issued all men from 16 to 40 who have not already been covered. This order will relate only to those occupations and industries which have been included in the first five orders.

In commenting upon the amendment to the regulations, the labor minister stated: "It is the intention to go carefully into the circumstances surrounding the employment of all men from 16 to 40, both ages inclusive, in a large number of occupations and industries. The cases of men subject to Mobilization Regulations and of young men 16, 17 and 18 years old have already been reviewed in quite a lengthy list of occupations. Shortly an order will be issued bringing the cases of all men who are within the age limits provided by the amendment, under examination, and progressively further orders will be issued covering all men in the groups now referred to in the regulations, who may be engaged at certain occupations not covered by the first five orders."

Consecrate Bishop With Solemn Rites

(By Malcolm Baber)

In all the solemnity and impressiveness of the centuries-old Church of England ritual, the Very Rev. Dean Harry Richard Hagg was consecrated Bishop of Calgary Tuesday morning in the Pro-Cathedral Church of the Redeemer.

Participating in the two-hour service conducted by the Most Rev. L. Ralph Sherman, Lord Archbishop of Rupert's Land, were outstanding dignitaries of the Anglican church in Western Canada.

Seated in the body of the church were the clergy of the diocese, visiting clergymen, lay readers, and lay delegates to the Synod, as well as chaplains of army and air force units in Calgary.

The Pro-Cathedral was filled to its capacity with members of the congregation and others, while many others waited outside to extend congratulations to Calgary's new bishop.

Sgt. C. E. Maurer Writes Mother From Japan

The first personal note to be received since he was taken prisoner by the Japs early in the Pacific war was received by Mrs. Maurer from her son Charles last week.

The wire read: "I am interned at Otsuka Onoda Bunsho P.O.W. camp. Health as usual. Love to all. Charles."

The wire was the first intimation to Mrs. Maurer that Charles had been promoted to the rank of sergeant. Needless to say, now that she knows where he is, a parcel is on its way to Charles.

RED CROSS HAS LETTERS FROM OCCUPIED EUROPE

A fairly large number of letters have arrived at the Alberta division of the Canadian Red Cross at Calgary wrongly addressed or the parties to which they are addressed have moved and left no forwarding address. The Calgary Herald on Monday published the names of persons having letters at Red Cross headquarters and two of them are said to have belonged to Coleman.

One of the names was Alvelino Gahino, well known here and at one time an employee of International Co. He is thought to be based at Calgary with the army. The other is Martillo Yehes. He has never been known to reside here.

What China Is Doing For Us

CHINA has killed or permanently incapacitated 1,200,000 Japanese soldiers, who, otherwise, would have been thrown into the battle against us.

CHINA is engaging 1,000,000 Japanese soldiers on her own fronts. Their release for service elsewhere would vitally affect the position of the United Nations, and conceivably, turn the tide of war.

CHINA offers the United Nations the most accessible bases for the offensive against Japan. She protects Russia's backdoor. Her troops, under General Stilwell, have joined the United Nations in the defense of India.

CHINA is a paramount factor in shortening the war. A long war will mean a ghastly loss of life, a staggering debt burden and a drastic dislocation of our free economy and way of life.

Amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act

Notice to Interested Employers and Employees

AT ITS 1943 Session, the Parliament of Canada amended the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1940. The effect of these amendments is to require that additional workers be covered under unemployment insurance.

On and after September 1st, 1943, employers must make contributions in respect of the following employees:

- ★ (1) ALL PERSONS engaged in employment hitherto insurable, regardless of the amount of earnings, who may be paid on an hourly rate, on a daily rate, on a weekly rate, or a piece rate (including a mileage rate).
- ★ (2) ALL EMPLOYEES paid on a monthly or annual salary basis, whose salary, including any cost of living bonus which may be received, does not exceed $2,400 a year.

All employees, as above described, must pay their contributions as required by law.

The combined contribution for each employee earning $26 or more a week will be in Class 7—63c a week. To Employers: Obtain unemployment insurance books from the nearest local office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission as soon as possible, for employees above described who will become insurable on September 1st, 1943.

To Employees: It is in your interest to see that your employer makes contributions on your behalf from September 1st, 1943, if you become insurable through this Amendment.

Pure Science

Has Been Greatly Jeopardized By Many Wartime Demands

Dr. W. K. Fisher, who has retired from his position as director of the third largest marine experimental station in the world, declares that the war years were the severest trial pure science has stood in recent years.

"There is now every inducement to abandon pure science for technical applications, but some one must keep the candlelight burning," he said.

The responsibility for preserving what he called "the sacred flame" rests largely with the universities, Fisher believes, but he said their position for this task was jeopardized by wartime demands on curricula.

ISRAEL'S SIN AND RESTORATION
Golden text: "The Lord is slow to anger and abundant in loving-kindness, forgiving iniquity and transgression. Numbers 14:18.
Lesson: Exodus 32-34.
Devotional reading: Jeremiah 31:31-34.

Explanations and Comments
The Sin of the Fickle People, Exodus 32:1-6. Leaving Moses and Joshua still on the Mount, we are taken to the plain at its base to learn what had happened meanwhile to the children of Israel. They had grown weary waiting six weeks for Moses' return. "As for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of Egypt," they scornfully wailed, "we know not what has become of him," and they demanded that Aaron make "gods which shall go before us." Aaron called for their golden earrings and with the gold he fashioned a molten calf. "These are thy gods, O Israel," which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt," he said to the people; but when later called to account by Moses he excused himself by saying he could not help it. "I could not prevent them from carrying out their wishes; opposition on my part would have cost me my life." Thus is Aaron represented to us in this narrative, a reed bending before the storm.

Aaron had an altar built before the golden image and proclaimed that on the morrow a feast to Jehovah should be held. The people entered into this joyfully, burnt-offerings were offered and peace offerings were brought, and then the people "sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play."

Moses Learns About the People's Sin, Exodus 32:7-14. "Go, get thee down," came the word to Moses on the Mount; "for thy people, that thou broughtest up out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves: they have turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them."

Moses' Anger, Aaron's Excuses; and the Punishment of the People, Exodus 32:15-29. Moses descended from the Mount carrying with him the "two tables of the testimony," and when he approached the camp and saw the idol and the dancing people his anger waxed hot, and he threw down the two tables of stone and broke them.

Moses again Intercedes for the People, Exodus 32:30-35. Moses returned to Jehovah and brought divine forgiveness of his people. Should his prayer fail and he perish with them: "Blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written," he cried. "Moses' day of triumph was the day of disillusionment and trial. He survived it with all his limitations because at best he loved his people more than he loved himself."

"Porterettes" Join Railway Workers

Shortage of man power has compelled Canadian National Railways Express to employ women to perform duties previously performed exclusively by men at the Central Station in Montreal. These women act as checkers, load and unload railway express cars. An experimental squad of seven women having proven satisfactory the number of women workers is being increased. As a general rule, express parcels are not heavy, but occasionally an overweight shipment is offered. Instructions to these women are to attempt nothing over fifty pounds. They work on eight hour shifts, their working conditions and wages being similar to those enjoyed by men in the same occupations.

While some of these workers had employment prior to joining the Canadian National Railways, the majority of them gave their previous occupation as "housewife." Occupations of others ranged from office workers to charwomen. The "porterettes" now working with the Canadian National Express say they are well satisfied with the new job. The platform trucks on which the women load parcels in the express rooms below the tracks are hauled by tractor up a ramp to the track level to be placed alongside the railway cars into which the parcels are laden. In a similar manner, platform trucks loaded from the cars are sent to the lower level by tractor power. There are no hand-drawn trucks in the Central Station, mail, express and baggage each having its own power units to haul the heavy loads.

Registration Cards

Canadians Leaving Country For 30 Days Or More Must Surrender Certificates

The post office department announced that Canadians leaving the country for 30 days or more must surrender their national registration certificates to the chief custom officer at the port of exit or forward them to the chief registrar at Ottawa for safe-keeping.

On their return to Canada, such persons may obtain their certificates, or a duplicate, by filling out form "Y" now available at post offices, and sending it to the chief registrar or by making direct application by letter.

LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

PREVENTION OF DROWNING

From various parts of Canada stories of near-drownings, in which prolonged artificial respiration saved lives even after the victims had been in the water for considerable time, are coming in to the offices of the Health League of Canada. Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the league, in a recent nation-wide radio address, appealed for reports of success or failure, so that life-saving possibilities might be more generally understood.

There are still many persons, even physicians, who do not know that life may be restored after immersion of more than a few minutes, and that artificial respiration should be begun immediately on the spot and continued until the victim breathes voluntarily or until rigor mortis sets in. It is most important to watch for and report cases where there is difficulty in getting air into the lungs. This is often caused by laryngeal spasm. This newly discovered phenomenon is still hardly understood and all information possible is necessary if it is to be dealt with.

Among reports reaching the Health League in the last few days are several cases in which drowning victims were pronounced dead or where for other reasons resuscitation was abandoned after comparatively short efforts.

UNDER ENEMY FIRE

Although members of the British Women's services do not undertake combatant duties, they have frequently been under enemy fire. Many have been decorated. Awards include 10 decorations to Women's Royal Naval Service, 24 to Auxiliary Territorial Service, 32 to Women's Auxiliary Air Force, and mention in dispatches of three members of the W.R.N.S., five of the A.T.S., and 255 W.A.A.F.S.

Girl Drives Dray

Scottish Lass Has A Tough Job In Glasgow

It is now no uncommon sight to see women driving huge vans piled with merchandise. As a rule the dray-horses have to be guided through the heaviest traffic, and it is a strenuous task.

However, when I spoke to one of those drivers she was unperturbed. "The horse does a lot of the thinking for me!" she said, and added, "You see, father was a Cockney and mother was a Scot—so I'm not so dull myself!" Still, the job remains a tough one. The Amazon admitted that she was hearing some words which she had never known before, and that she felt glad of the high seat built on to most of the vehicles. From this perch other irate drivers seem to be very far away.

Incidentally, the huge horses sometimes have very skittish names. The most powerful member in the stables was called Rosebud.—Glasgow Herald.

New Style Bayonet

American Combat Units Are Supplied With A Shorter Weapon

A new bayonet, shorter, lighter and sturdier, now is being supplied to American combat units on the far-flung battlefronts of the world, officer of the Picatinny Arsenal, announcer.

The new weapon, Larned said has been shortened from 16 to 10 inches and is considered by jungle fighters, paratroopers and air-borne infantry as more adaptable to battle conditions.

Flat and sword-like in appearance, it is most nearly like the Japs' flat, razor-sharp bayonet. Britain also has changed to a shorter blade, triangular in shape. French troops use long, round bayonets, while the Russians' are similar to the British.

A unique American fish, the black bass has been colonized in Cuba, Europe and South Africa.

THE HUMAN COMEDY

Adapted from the Metro-
Goldwyn-Mayer Picture

CHAPTER FIVE

It was about a week later that the family received that letter. Homer had earned it with him all day. Now, during a lull in office hours that night he opened it. Willie Grogan's eyes were bright with interest so Homer decided to read it aloud.

"Dear Homer: First of all, anything of mine at home is yours. My books, my phonograph, my records, my clothes when you're ready to fit into them. They are all yours as you are now the man of the Macaulay family of Ithaca."

The letter went on to tell about his army checks going to Ma, to state in yearning terms how much he missed them all, to speak of his pal, Tobey.

Then Homer sat up a little more stiffly as he came to the next paragraph. "I am proud that I am serving my country, which to me is Ithaca and all the People. But I am terribly afraid, although I know that when the time comes I shall do what is expected of me. I may be killed in this war. I must come right out and tell you this. Do not be unhappy. I am glad that I am the Macaulay who is in the war for it would be a pity and a mistake if it were you. You are the best of the Macaulays. You must go on being the best. God bless you. So long boy. Your brother Marcus."

The clock ticked away the silence as the young boy and the old man sat there, drowned in thought.

Homer spoke in a thin, new voice. "If my brother is killed in this war I'll spit at the world. I'll hate it forever. I won't be good. I'll be bad. I'll be the worst there is. I'll be the worst there ever lived."

She spoke with a rush of feeling. "You do love it don't you?"

"I love everything." His voice roughened. "You don't ask me if I love you because I do. I love you and the whole world and everything in it. You know honey I don't go pretty for sentimentality but whatever happiness may be, I've got a pretty good idea it's something like this." His tone was rich and intimate. "I'd like it to be a little girl. I'd like to have a little girl around looking like you. I'd like to hear the voice of a pretty little girl like that. There was a long pause. Then he said gently, "I used to think you were a fool. Well, I was pretty wrong."

Not a quaver in her voice as she replied, "I'm not the least bit afraid, Tom."

"Good. Then this won't hit you too hard, Diana... I'm going..."

He could almost hear the pull at her heart. Then she said, "I knew it would come. How soon?"

"About a month."

"Where?"

"I don't know yet. It's the Navy. After that..."

Now when she lifted with a smiling courage. "It's all right, Tom. I know how to pray."

Tom couldn't speak. There were boxes of letters rattling through him. He felt great, as if he were in church on Easter morning. Diana was good. She was a really fine woman.

And he was a lucky man. He would never have believed that a woman could be as brave and wondrous a creature as Diana. He was glad he knew it. It made the birds sing better, the sun shine brighter...

It was at this very moment that Homer was hurrying back from delivering a telegram. Business had been slow. He had loitered for a soda. Now he looked at his watch, the one Marcus had given him. Gosh, it was late. He was waiting for his bike and was off.

It was close to twilight as he walked into the office. One of his pockets bulged with cookies that he had bought for Mr. Grogan. It would be fun, surprising him.

As he stepped in, the telephone rang. He picked it up. "Hello?"

"That's right, Homer," he mumbled. "You're doing fine... Just fine..."

And he said so many times that if he didn't work, he would die. The coffee isn't ready. So wake up yourself. They're sending a telegram..."

His voice trailed off to a whisper. "Mr. Grogan was so still—too still. A dash of water wouldn't help. Neither would that fresh coffee from Corbett."

Yes, Willie Grogan had died. He had died working, just like he always said he wanted to. Homer stood there numbly. He knew he ought to do something. Yet for a second he couldn't.

He heard the door open. It was Felix, one of the regular messengers. Felix stared at him with white face. "Say, what's the matter, Homer?" Homer gestured at Grogan. "What's the matter with the old man?"

"Ah, you're crazy."

"No, he's dead."

Felix let out a mournful little

On The Honor List

Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited now has 29 of its sea-going personnel on the honor list for good service during this war, according to a recent report from Capt. R. E. Stuart, V.C., general manager, who won his V.C. in the Great War.

Among those decorated or mentioned in despatches are, left to right: Capt. H. A. Moore, master of the Duchess of Athol; Lt.-Cmdr. G. F. Billet, R.N.R., and Capt. W. G. Busk-Wood, master of the "Duchess of Bedford". Lt.-Cmdr. Billet won the Distinguished Service Cross at Oran, North Africa, while Capt. Moore and Busk-Wood were made Officers of the Order of the British Empire for good service when their ships were in action with the enemy.

Capt. Moore, O.B.E., who has been in the ocean service of the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited since 1910, has been honored twice "for good service" while in command of the Athol since she was taken over by the Admiralty.

Lt.-Cmdr. Billet is one of five Royal Naval Reserve men from C.P.S.L. to win the Distinguished Service Cross for heroic action, in this instance at Oran.

Capt. Busk-Wood was made an Officer of the Order of the British Empire for his part in the sinking of a U-boat by the "Duchess of Bedford", of which he is master.

sigh. He hadn't understood Mr. Grogan but he had respected him. He went to the telephone and dialed Mr. Spangler's house. There was no answer. "He's not in, Homer. What'll we do?"

"I don't know," Homer went to the typewriter. "He was receiving this message I think."

Afterwards, he could hardly recall taking that unfinished telegram out of the typewriter—the one Mr. Grogan had been trying to write at the last.

The words swam before Homer's eyes. "Mrs. Kate Macaulay, 2226 Santa Clara Avenue, Ithaca, California. The Department of War regrets to inform you that your son, Marcus..."

(The tragedy of Marcus' death will hit Homer hard. It may shake his faith in life itself. Is there anyone he can turn to who will help him find the road back? Be sure to read the concluding installment.)

Wheat Acreage

Reduction Of Nearly 4,000,000 Acres

In Prairie Provinces In 1943

A reduction of almost 4,000,000 acres in the area seeded to wheat in the three Prairie Provinces in 1943 is shown in a recent official report. The figures are based on returns from the annual June survey and show that the wheat area in Western Canada in 1943 is 16,729,000 acres compared with 20,653,000 acres in 1942, a decrease of 19 per cent. All of the acreage taken out of wheat is more than covered by increases in acreage seeded to oats, barley and flaxseed, the combined increase in the acreage of those grains being 4,907,000 acres and the decrease in wheat, 3,924,000 acres, as compared with 1942.

The 1943 wheat acreage is the smallest area planted in the Prairie Provinces since 1918, the closing year of the first Great War. It is also closely in line with the original objectives suggested to Western farmers by the Dominion-Provincial Conference held in Ottawa last December and differs very little from the "intentions to plant" report issued last May.

Patriotism And Thrift

That's What Makes A War Savings Stamp Stick

There's glue on the back of a War Savings Stamp, but it's a mixture of patriotism and thrift that makes a War Savings Certificate "stick", says Mrs. Bill Jones.

"My boys are overseas. They are magnificently equipped, and my Certificates helped to equip them. Now that they are getting into battle, they will need more and more equipment. So I'm buying more Certificates every month—and they're going to stick! As a mother of soldiers I'm not going to withdraw the help those boys need by asking for my money back."

I'll still have those Certificates when the boys come home. They'll be worth more then, and I'll be glad to have the money to help the boys again when the war is over," she says.

Single women in Britain between the ages of 19 and 31 are liable to conscription for the women's auxiliary forces, but may elect to go into certain specified jobs in industry.

On The Great Lakes

First Ship Launching Took Place

269 Years Ago

Everyone who lives within sight of the waters of the Great Lakes knows that there have been a lot of new ships of various types launched on the Great Lakes within recent months. It was just 269 years ago that the Great Lakes had its first launching of anything larger than an Indian canoe.

It was on August 7, 1679, and this first ship was the ill-fated Griffon. First sailing ship to fly the Great Lakes, the Griffon was built under direction of La Salle, and launched just above Niagara Falls. She carried La Salle and Father Hennepin to Washington Island in Green Bay, whence they proceeded to the Illinois country.

The Griffon was left in command of a sailor named Luc, who was to take on a cargo of furs and sell them in the East to satisfy La Salle's creditors. But the Griffon never reached port. La Salle apparently believed that Luc betrayed him, scuttled the ship and stole the furs. But there seems to be grounds for believing that the Griffon was caught in a storm and sank with all hands.—Chicago Daily News.

SELECTED RECIPES

GRANDMOTHER'S APPLE PIE

1½ cups flour (pastry flour preferred)
¾ cup lard (shortening) (scant)
1 teaspoon salt
Ice water

Filling—
3 or 4 large tart apples
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup lard
½ cup sugar

Cut shortening into the flour and salt with pastry blender, or finger tips. Add just enough ice water to make pastry hold together. Roll out on floured board. Separate into two pieces. Roll out bottom crust and fit into 9-inch plate. Chill well. Roll out top crust, cut slits in it to allow steam to escape, place on separate plate to chill thoroughly.

Pare, core and slice apples thinly (Greenings are preferable in spring, Baldwins or Spies in winter and Transparents in fall). Make a mixture in measuring cup of flour and spices and fill cup to halfway mark with white sugar. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons of this mixture on bottom of chilled crust and spread over it. Layer of apples. Sprinkle all over with another 2 tablespoons of flour, sugar and spice, mix and add remaining apples. Mix the remaining flour-sugar mixture with ½ cup corn syrup and spread over apples. Moisten edges of bottom crust with corn syrup (prevents fruit juice from oozing out). Cover with top crust, pressing edges well together. Brush top of pie with mixture of 1 tablespoon warm water and 1 tablespoon corn syrup to give a glaze when finished. Bake for 10 minutes at 450 degrees F. (hot oven) and reduce heat to 325 degrees F. (moderate oven) to finish.

BRITISH DAIRY HERD

Dairy herds in Great Britain have been given first priority in supplies of imported feed, so the cattle population has increased by 4.65 per cent while all other animals have declined in numbers. The number of hogs has fallen by 51.9 per cent since the war began.

Research in London reveals that every man under 60 was liable for military service in the reign of William the Conqueror.

C.W.N.A. Convention

Weekly Publishers From Every Province In Canada Attend
Gathering

"Solving War Problems On The Home Front" was the keynote of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association annual convention recently held in Toronto. Largest registration in some years was well over three hundred, including publishers from every province of Canada as well as Newfoundland.

Roy P. MacLean, publisher of The Courier, Kelowna, B.C., president of the C.W.N.A., welcomed delegates and spoke of the "Warrenter" and its practical planning to give the utmost in information and inspiration to help the weekly publishers carry on their important jobs—increasingly important in wartime.

A real "scoop" was the presence of Hon. George Drew, newly-elected Premier of the Province of Ontario, as guest speaker at the annual dinner—his first public talk since the election, broadcast from the banquet hall over the CBC network.

Sound appraisal of the merits of free enterprise and a warning that wartime controls must be relaxed as soon as possible after the war were voiced by Walter P. Zeller, president of Zeller's Limited, Montreal, speaking at the opening luncheon. The real cause for the present wartime prosperity, with jobs for everyone and high earnings, was not, he said, the result of government control, but rather the result of government spending.

Defining "private enterprise," Mr. Zeller said it meant the "freedom of business—business—business—singly, in partnership or in groups, to engage in any business undertaking that they may choose, within the limit of the law, and on the understanding that if the undertaking prospers they may reap the rewards of their initiative, and on the understanding that if the undertaking fails, they will bear the consequent losses. It means a society free of those artificial restrictions, either by the state or by monopoly, which prevent any person who dares to take the risk, from setting forth on new economic ventures of discovery."

Blacksmith Shop

War Work Has Helped To Keep Business Going

Since the time that the old grey mare got kicked aside by the Model T there was a steady decline in the blacksmith business—but there's a bit of a recovery.

Peter Craigon, 52 years a smithy, is still at his anvil in Winnipeg, but shakes his head over the days that are no more—when business boomed as horse and buggy was the order of the day. However, he does admit a slight increase in trade with gas rationing compelling people to revert to horse-drawn conveyances.

But the labor shortage has also hit Peter Craigon. "I just can't get help for my shop, and I am getting pretty old to run the business by myself," he said.

His career began as a boy in Perthshire, Scotland, 52 years ago. At that time he spent five years' apprenticeship, learning his trade. Later he served as a blacksmith with a cavalry regiment in the Boer War.

And again Peter Craigon is taking part in a war; now he makes metal parts and does welding jobs for essential war industries.

Last winter, his spare time was taken up with the task of instructor in his trade at the University of Manitoba.
